The week in Hebden Bridge

Local news in one email, free to read, paid for by readers.

The Lantern newsroom

The old mill on the canal has stood empty for nine years. This week the owners asked the council for permission to turn its upper three floors into flats, and the council will take comments until the twentieth. Below are the three applications that close this fortnight, what each proposes, and how to have your say.

Planning

Each application on the council's list comes with drawings anyone can read. A comment does not need a form: a short letter to the planning office, quoting the reference, is enough to be counted.

Application	Where	Closes
Flats on an old mill floor	Mill Lane	20 November
A rear extension on a terrace	Bridge Gate	22 November
A tree to come down by the river	Holme Street	27 November

Letters

All politics is local.

Tip O'Neill

We print three letters a week, as written. Send yours to the address at the foot of this page; we will print your name unless you ask us not to.

Photograph: the mill from the canal towpath